

A NEW GENERATION OF OUTDOOR GEAR

2018-19

STYLE AND FUNCTIONALITY COMBINED

Ridgeline of New Zealand has been providing the UK with its unique style of outdoor clothing since 2007, which has been proven in the harsh and rugged environment of the New Zealand Mountains. Ridgeline's ethos has always been simple and that is to provide a range of outdoor clothing that is highly technical and great quality whilst at the same time being affordable. Ridgeline has always been at the fore front of fabric technology and this is vital when providing clothing that needs to keep you protected from the elements in the harshest of environments.

This year Ridgeline introduces a range of lightweight garments using the new RL #Hi-DRO STRETCH™ fabrics which combine movement and functionality whilst remaining waterproof and extremely versatile. We have combined this new fabric technology with Ridgeline's unique long New Zealand styling to bring you the ultimate in wet weather protection and durability giving you the ability to Challenge the Extreme.

PINTAIL EXPLORER SMOCK

Interaction with our customers is very important to us here at Ridgeline, it enables us to improve and develop existing styles to suit the customer's requirements. The Ridgeline Pintail Explorer smock is testament to this and we have added new features to further enhance the Pintail Explorer Smock, a new pack away hood with wire, articulated elbows which are double lined, colour contrasted for style and belt clip to enable convenient carriage.

With a waterproof rating of 10,000 H2O and breathability of 5,000 MVT the remainder remains the same, why change a good thing.

TYPHOON JACKET

The long style jacket is what Ridgeline is famous for so when we combined our style with today's modern fabric technology we came up with a lightweight (859 grams) and practical jacket called the Typhoon Jacket.

It has all the features of heavier and more cumbersome jackets, waterproof (10,000 H2O) and breathable (3,000 MVT), wired and adjustable hood, hand warmer pockets, cargo pockets, elasticated and velcro cuffs but is easier to carry and every bit as durable in its performance.

CARE GUIDE

CARING FOR YOUR WATERPROOF CLOTHING:

Dirt and grime will affect the performance of Ridgeline waterproof clothing so keeping the garments clean is vital for maintaining its effectiveness. All waterproof clothing contains a membrane, which makes the garment waterproof and breathable. This membrane can be damaged and will cease to function efficiently if the garment is not cared for correctly as per the care instructions, which is normally located in the collar of the garment.

AVOID USING THE FOLLOWING CLEANING PRODUCTS:

- Ordinary detergent
- Detergents containing fabric conditioner
- Fabric conditioner
- Bleach

AVOID DIRECT HEAT- EXAMPLES OF DIRECT HEAT ARE:

- Laying garments on radiators
- Drying the garment in a tumble dryer
- Drying the garment on hot water pipes
- Placing the garment in front of an open fire
- Placing the garment in front of an electric blow heater or radiator
- Airing Cupboard

We highly recommend that you allow these garments to air dry.

CARE INSTRUCTIONS:

- Hand wash with water at 30°C
- Do not iron
- Do not bleach
- Do not dry clean
- Do not wring
- Do not tumble dry
- Hang to dry

RIDGELINE CLOTHING FABRICS

NEW Fabrics

Here at Ridgeline we understand that outdoor clothing technology and fabrics are getting more advanced with every changing season, but we also understand that every season is changing with every passing year. This year we have introduced the new RL #Hi-DROSTRETCH™ fabrics, which are a major advance in weight reduction, without compromising on performance. The advantage of the RL #Hi-DROSTRETCH™ is the reduction in weight compared to other fabrics that are available with the same technical ability which allows movement without restriction. This means that we can produce high performance shell garments, which are perfectly suited for any environment; in which our customers require them to perform in. RL #Hi-DROSTRETCH™ fabrics allow you to Challenge the Extreme with confidence, comfort and movement combined.
